

Report on Orientation for ACCA Program Shift - III

On July 11, 2024, the International Skill Development Corporation (ISDC) held an orientation session for the incoming B. Com International Finance and Accounting (IFA) batch of 2024-2027 at St. Joseph's University. The event, which started at 4:30 p.m. in Room No. 104, aimed to familiarize students with the ACCA program and provide insights into the resources available to them.

The session opened with a warm welcome from Miss Raji Rajan, the ACCA Program Coordinator. She offered a clear overview of the ACCA program, highlighting its global relevance and the benefits of the integrated curriculum. Miss Raji explained the fee structure, payment options, and registration process, ensuring that students had all the necessary information for a smooth start. Additionally, she clarified the equivalence of exempted papers to university exams and stressed the importance of consistent academic performance across all semesters.

The orientation also touched on the perks of being a B.Com International Finance & Accounting student at St. Joseph's, emphasizing the extra support and opportunities available through the program. The session ended with a Q&A segment, where students' concerns about exams, internships, and career paths were addressed by the ISDC team. The event provided attendees with a clear understanding of their academic journey and left them feeling supported as they began their studies.
